

2012 Mocksville Christmas Parade ~ video now available

Thanks to the Davie County Chamber of Commerce and the Town of Mocksville for all of the hard work organizing and coordinating the Mocksville Christmas Parade.

Thank you to all of the volunteers and organizations that contributed time and talent, and thanks to all of the parents and kids who participated!

Don't miss the Advance Christmas Parade, Saturday, December 8th!

The best places to live in America have enough "community" in the community to put on a well attended parade. Davie County has enough "community" in the community to put on TWO well attended parades at Christmas ~ one in Mocksville and one in Advance. The 2012 Advance Christmas Parade is on Saturday, December 8th, 10 AM at Cornatzer Road & US Hwy 801.

A Celebration of Trees

Every year the Mocksville Christmas Parade commemorates the past through the traditions of Christmas; celebrates the present by bringing together the best in civic groups, churches, businesses, schools, community leaders and public servants; and presents a vision of hope to the next generation for a strong and prosperous future. The 2012 Mocksville Christmas Parade, "A Celebration of Trees" celebrated the majestic oak trees on the picturesque town square and Christmas Trees everywhere.

Re-live the Moment

If you or your kids were in the parade or unable to attend this year, or if you just love parades, watch the entire parade again below or in full 1080p HD video on your Davie County YouTube Channel.

(Note: Technical difficulty prevented recording the first one minute of the parade.)
